

FREE RESOURCE / GAME-DAY HITTER CARD

ONE PLAN. ONE CLEAR NEXT PITCH.

WHAT I AM READY TO ATTACK

WHAT THE SITUATION ASKS

MY RESET

WHAT I LEARNED ABOUT THE PITCHER

WHAT TO REVIEW AFTER THE GAME

Reprint this card for the next game. Keep it specific enough to help, and short enough to remember.

FREE RESOURCE / WORKED EXAMPLE

AN OUT CAN STILL GIVE YOU A USEFUL ANSWER.

FICTIONAL EXAMPLE | NOT A PLAYER EVALUATION

Situation: First at-bat, no specific situational assignment. The agreed plan is to attack a hittable fastball.

Observed: The hitter swings at a fastball in the agreed area and lines out to the left fielder.

Decision: Consistent with the plan, based on the information recorded.

Execution: Record only what the coach or video supports. "Line drive" does not prove every mechanical detail was correct.

Outcome: Out.

Next action: Keep the approach unless later information gives a reason to change.

NOW REVIEW AN AT-BAT OF YOUR OWN

What was the plan and what pitch did you see?

WHAT I CAN SAY WITH CONFIDENCE

WHAT NEEDS ANOTHER LOOK

Do not turn the example into "all lineouts are good at-bats." The review depends on the actual assignment, pitch, decision, and execution.
